INSIDE THE MUSIC

Blues, Preludes & Feuds, A Musical Memory is a seamless blend of original solo piano music and story, presented in an innovative platform, delivering deep technology-art interactions.

The music skillfully wends around the narrative in an organic flow, telling the story in its own way: Improvisational. Structured. Meaningful.

The story? A funny, reflective tale of growing up in the politically charged times of 1960s Chicago, becoming a budding teenage jazz musician, and later, a composer.

MEET PETER

With a deep jazz-and-blues core, Peter Saltzman has produced a broad career in the music industry as composer, pianist, singer-songwriter, and entrepreneur. He studied jazz at Indiana University (Bloomington) and composition at Eastman School of Music. His work has been performed and recorded globally—from the Czech National Symphony Orchestra to the Dallas Black Dance Theatre (at the 1996 Atlanta Olympics).
